DAY BEFORE THE COMMENCE-MENT ANTHONY

[FROM OUR SPECIAL COR (ESPONDENT.] CHAPEL HILL, May 30, 1876. The Commencement promises to be a great success, visitors from all directions are coming in, and the village wears its old-time joyous

Among the Trustees we notice the arrival of Hon, Paul Cameron, Judge Kerr, Judge Battle, Col. W. L. Steele, Hon. K. P. Battle, Rev. Neill Mc-Kay, Col. W. L Saunders. Hon. A. M. Waddell and Rev. Dr.

Pritchard are with us. The Literary Societies had meet ings to-night in which many old members participated.

Fab. H. Busbee, Esq., entertained the members of the Philanthropic with a characteristic address, calling up sweet and sad memories. Col Bridges responded to calls and gave the young gentlemen a good deal of pleasant practical a lvice.

To-morrow will tring crowds from Hillsboro, Durham and Pittsboro. Ample provisions have been made for the accommodation of visitors. The Trustees are lodged in the rooms of the old College Chapel.

The process by which twelve uncommercial travellers are put into eleven beds, giving each a bed, has been thoroughly mastered by our entertainers.

It is well worth a trip here to behold the wonderful Campus, with its forest of oaks, its rare flowers, its graceful undulations, and delightful walks.

He who has once seen the University Campus, understands why a lifelong love of Chapel Hill dwells in the heart of every student of the University of North Carolina. AMICUS.

Rev. Dr. T. H. Pritchard.

The last number of the Economis contains the following complimentary notice of the distinguished Pastor of the Salisbury Street First Baptist Church: At the Chowan Baptist Association, last week, it was our good for-tune to listen to an address from Dr. T. H. Pritchard of Raleigh, upon the subject of Foreign Missions. It was an able address. We have seldom listened to one more so. The subject was presented in all its important aspects, with an array of facts and figures, a convincing power of argu-ment, as app opriate felecies of il-lustration, and with, sometimes, a natural and touching pathos that brought tears, responsive to his own. from an audience that was profoundly impressed. We have neither the taste, nor the disposition for the indulgence of the commonplaces of praise, but we will say this much for ourself, that we went away from that sperch, a wiser and better man, and the world in which we live. Dr. Pritchard has scarcely yet reached the meridian of life, and according to human calculation, must have before him, an undeveloped future of vs fulness and honor. On the maternal side, he comes of that Henderson family, which, for a hundred years, has illustrated the annals of North Carolina, chiefly in the department of jurisprudence, which in late years, has honored other States, and which, like the Marshall family, of Virginia, snows its intellectual power wherever there is a drop of its

May 29, 1876 Ed. News :- Supposing that many patrons of your paper will be interested in knowing what arrangements are made for delegates and others, who desire to attend the Republican Convention which meets at Ciucinnati on June 18th, and the Democratic Convention, which convenes at St. Louis June 27th, we give you the following information.

Round-trip tickets will be put on sale at very reduce i rates from June 5th to the 13th-good for 30 days-to Cincinnati and return. St. Louis tickets will be on sale from 15th to 28th June, good for 30 days.

Greensboro', N. C. Baby Carriages.

Right here we want to call all the fond mother's attention to the following: The writer sometime ago saw a baby carriage standing on the railroad track near the Old North State Foundry. His attention was attracted first by hearing the incoming 3:30 mail train blow down brakes, and then again and again the engine ecreamed out its terrific note of alarm. The engineer reversed his engine, sanded the track, and by efforts only known to a first-class engineer, stopped his engine sufficiently to let the nurse, who was readingle love-letter in the shade, to baul the carriage out of the way. The nurse remarked. "La, I didn't know the train come in dis time a day."

MUBFREESROBO, N. C.,)

RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY MOLNING, JUNE 1, 1876.

May 29, 1876. A negro preacher named Islah Horton, aged about 35, killed himself, either intentionally or sceidentally, in the woods not far from town, on Saturday last. His shot-gun, with empty barrel, was lying near him when found.

Rev. F. M. Jordan, the famous evangelist from Hillsboro, is holding a very successful revival meeting in the Baptist church in Murfreesboro. On one night last week there were eleven converts, mostly from the young ladies of the Chowan Baptist Institute. Mr. Jordan is an earnest, devoted laborer in the cause of Christ, and his plain, practical, direct style of preaching is wonderfully effective. The nomination of our townsman, HON. J. J. YEATES, for Congress from the First District, will be made without opposition, and it is doubtful, in fact, if any District Convention is called to nominate a candidate. The Radicals will put the impressible and inevitable jackin-the-box Lindsey in the field. Judge Albertson would like the nomination, being very doubtful of the success of the Republican State ticket, on which it is proposed to place him as candidate for Attorney General. But Albertson, though a far more able man than Lindsey, has no more show for Congress than Bristow for the Presidency.

Look out for a lively time in your Convention at Raleigh, June 14th. PAT. WINSTON, of the Winsdor Times, tells me he will be there with a greenback resolution something less than half a mile long, which he will advocate in a stunning speech. Pat is a disciple of Old Bill Allen and swears by the Cincinnati Enquirer, of which he is the able and fluent North Carolina correspondent.

TALL TRAVELLING his report of the hanging of Burwell Newsome, that day at Windsor. It is a good day's journey; but he somehow made it in six hours. Next day he was at Edenton explaining graveyards and looking up the antiquities of that ancient Borough, including Old Bill Allen, Washington's chair, an old masonic pitcher with the handle broken off, and I don't know what all. He is sensitive on the topic of the Centenarian Belk. He travelled some eight hundred miles, going and returning, to interview the old gentleman, and found him under ground.

JOURNALISM in the North and West cannot be the pleasantest thing in the world, just now. The Buffalo Commercial speaks of two of its cotemporaries as "the sore-headed Utica Herald," and "the yellow-jaundiced Buffalo Express." The St. Louis. Globe Democrat thus goes for a brother: "How does Deacon Richard Smith, the little red-headed rascal of the Cincinnati Gazette, like the looks of things this morning?" The Cincinnati Enquirer speaks of one of its ancient enemies as "the ignorant, depraved, corrupt, licentious and lousy editor of the Chicago Tribune;" and adds:

The Chicago Tribune can tell about as many lies to the square inch as any newspaper in the North-west.

* * Its elitors have no stronger argument than "idiots," "lunatics. scoundrels" and "madmen" to an ply to people who differ from them in seeking a solution to the country's financial difficulties.

That pure patriot and noble gentleman, the venerable Judge Manly, of Newberne, says, "the bane which has prevented much good in conducting and combinations and rings." the affairs of North Carolina is a want of union and co-operation between the different parts of the State. This is the result of observation, extended through a period of half a century. It is somewhat trite and commonplace to say that in all community of action, concert of movement is necessary to both comfort and efficiency, but commonplace and obviously necessary as it is, we have not yet had the wisdom to secure it. * *

We want a State policy. It alone can can give dignity to the commonwealth and prosperity to her people. "A pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together," must be made in order to land us in a port of safety and in a position of honorable distinction." These are words that every Democrat in the State should "read, mark, arn, and inwardly digest."

ALL MUNICELINA

SPEECH OF HON. J. J. DAVIS. On the 20th of May Mr. Davis made his maiden speech on the floor of Congress. And well did he acquit himself. He gave expression to some views on the general condition of the country which show the necessity for reform, and so tend to promote it. He also said some things in reference to the people of North Carolina which must tend to remove prejudices which exist against us in the minds of many honest people of the North, and so produce better feeling towards us-

He arraigned the Republican party for its administration during the last fifteen years. Power and duty, he said, carry with them responsibility, and if under Republican ascendancy "the industries of the country have languished, commerce been destroyed, agriculture, manufac ures, shipping decayed; if confidence has been destroyed and universal distrust overspreads the land; if the people have mourned and are mourning, and we have high authority for saying 'when the wicked rule the people mourn'-if, in one sentence, the people to-day are not contented, prosperous and happy-then it would be candid. just, fair, truthful, honest, to say that the long dominant, controlling Republican party is responsible for this condition of affairs, and it is the duty of the people to correct, not the form of government, but the administration of it."

He showed that since the Republican party came into power the country has not been prosperous; industry has not had its fair reward; reckless extravagance, fraud and dishonesty have marked the administration of public affairs; public officers (the head of the Government setting the example,) have regarded and treated their offices as private property to be used for private gain; the confidence of the people in the integrity of public servants has been shaken; monopolies have been established and classes favored, and wealth heaped upon these favored classes; the purses of those favored few have been made fat with yellow gold,doubling and quadrupling their investments, while the laboring masses have not been able to get even "rag money," as it is now derisively called.

By tabular statements, most carefully prepared, Mr. Davis demonstrated the extravagance of the Republican party.

From March 4, 1789, to June 30, 1861, the expenses of the Government-embracing a period of more than seventy-two years, covering the war of 1812, the Indian wars, and the Mexican war-amounted to $1,581,706,195.34. The net ordinary expenses of the four years of Johnson's administration was $1,-012, 420,202.14; six years of President Grant, $1,021,813,950-making in ten years of peace the enormous sum of $2,034,233 412 14, being nearly one-third more than all the expenses of the Government for seventy-two years, from 1789 to 1861, including the war of 1812, the Indian and the Mexican wars; and if you add to the ordinary expenses of the six years of President Grant's administration the amount of principal and interest paid on the public debt, it will amount to $4,008, 438,461,82; that is, more than two and a half times as much as the entire expenses of the Government from March 4, 1789, to June 30,

Our able Representative next turned his attention to the frauds practised upon the Government by the Republicans. He showed, from high Republican authority and from official sources, that not more than three-fourths of the net ordinary revenue collected by the Government since 1861 went into the Treasury, and that the remaining onefourth, amounting in round numbers to $1,500,000, was lost to the Government-"stolen from the people by corrupt and fraudulent officials

Upon the single article of distilled spirits the government was defrauded out of nine hundred millions of dollars ($900,000,000) in six years. He said: $182,000,000 were lost to the Treasury in one year alone, 1868, on this one subject of taxation. Just think of it! In one single year of republican rule there was lost or stolen from this single source of revenue ten times as much as the whole expenses of the Government for the eight years of Washington's administra-

The amount out of which the Government has been defrauded is so immense that, like the centennial exhibition in Philadelphia, it bewilders you and it cannot all be taken in at once by the eye or comprehended by the mind. Just think of it again, $182,000,000 in one single year on spirits alone. Why this is $50,000,-000 more than the whole assessed property of the State of North Carolina shown by the census of 1870. Just think again! If all the property of this once proud old State-'and, houses, corn, everything—were put up at auction and sold for cash it would not amount to as much as the whisky fraud upon the Government amounted to in one year. It was more than the assessed value, according to the census of 1870, of Alabama Arkansas, or Delaware, or Florida or Mississippi or New Hampshire or Vermont, or Texas.

Mr. Davis demonstoates that enough has been stolen by the party in power to pay the entire put lic debt, and very properly asks, "Is it not time for people to arouse themthemselves?"

The honorable gentleman then proceeds to vindicate North Carolina against the charge preferred by Mr. Blaine, that the trial and conviction of ex-Governor Holden was "purely a political impeachment; not prosecution, but persecution; persecution of a man for opinion's sake, a Union man of North Carolina." He asserted that 'every substantial statement" contained in the letter of Mr. Blaine's friend was untrue, and then he made a statement of the leading facts relating to the crimes, the impeachment, the trial, and the conviction of Holden.

Slavery and secession, Mr. Davis said, the South had surrendered; but, he added, "we never surrendered our manhood; we never surrendered our right to free government as we inherited it from our fathers; we never surrendered the proud and glorious memories of the past; we never consented to be slaves or cravens." And he was glad to know "that the soldiers who fought the battles of the Union desire to see the fruits of their victories secured by the preservation of a peaceful, harmonious and happy Union of States."

He ended his admirable address by saying to our friends at the North 'that they have the same interest in the liberties of the South that we have, they have the same interest in good government that we have. You cannot make an Ireland or a Hungary or a Poland of the South without endangering your own liberties. The States of the South must be free. living, breathing, sound, and healthy members of this Union." "And," Mr. Davis went on to say, "I appeal to every man who loves civil liberty and good government and who desires to see the Union agnin strong in the affections of all the people, to work for reform, to work to restore to the people a government in which economy, honesty, capacity and fidelity shall characterize every department, and harmony, good-will and brotherly love shall prevail in every section. I think I know the feeling and sentiment of the people of the South; and for them I will pledge that none will go before them in earnest prayers and zealous works to attain this happy end."

This speech is calculated to do much good; to advance the cause of reform; place North Carolina, and the Southern States generally, in the proper light in their relations to the Union; expose the frauds and extravagance of the Administration, and help the country on to a better condition of things to better manners, purer ways, and wiser laws.

POLITICAL NOTES.

All the leading papers in New York city, Democratic, Resublican and Independent, are a unit on the gold question.

The Tennessee democrats are divided on local issues, and the republicans claim the State by a large majority.

-N. Y. Herald.

The Raleigh Constitution thinks the nomination of Judge Settle to be Vice-President of the United States "would have a tremendous influence in favor of the Republican party throughout the entire South."

An Alabama radical sheet says 'strange as it may seem it turns out that most of the leading democratic politicians of Georgia were parties to all the bond transactions of Bullock' administration; and that they shared all the spoils which came in the way." That is really about as easy a lie to tell as a professional could wish at this season of the year.-Atlanta Constitution.

Ignoring vital issues in the coming campaign will be simply an impossibility. The Western Democratic greenbackers will not accept a hardmoney, contraction, resumption, Na-tional Bank platform. Rather than do so they will suffer defeat. Nor will the Eastern Democrats now grooming Tilden accept the average Western Democratic platform. The two are irreconcilable; and so far as the South is concerned the practical question for Southern Delegates is whether they shall form an alliance with the West or the East. The question can not be put in any other way.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

The Republican delegation from Wilkes County stands 2 for Little, 2 for Dockery. 1 unpledged. Maj. Jos A. Englehar i, late editor of the Wilmington Journal, is suggested by several pap ra as a candidate for Secretary of State.

Geston County Democrats declared for Vance for Congress; and if he does not receive the nomination to Congress, then tney desire his nomination for Governor.

The Stanly county Democratic onvention declare for Z. B. Vance for Governor; Seaton Gales for Lieut-Governor; Thos. S. Ashe for Con gress; and adopted the following resolution: Resolved, That in the selection of all officers, from township magistrate to president of the United States, we should take men whose character for honesty is now, and always has been, above suspicion

Like others, we have our preferences, and the chief of these is the desire to see Col. A. M. Waddell renominated for Congress. This is due the party and due Col. Waddell on many accounts; but, if on any ground more than another, e-pecially because he has been, of late, a target for the poisoned arrows of aspersion drawn from the filthy quiver of the Wil-mington Post: And, we think, a wavering as to the support of Wad dell would be construed into an endorsement of that mirror of chastise ment and repertory of calumny .-Fayetteville Wide-Awake.

There is trouble ahead in the Sixth Congressional District. Mr. Ashe's very indiscreet letter has seriously, " not fatally damas ed his chances for re-nomination. Gov. Vance positively declines to allow his name to be used in the convention against Mr. Ashe. He has his own reasons for this course, which his constituents do not seem to appreciate. Taking Vance off the course, McCorkle, of Catawba, a mest worthy and excellent gentleman, a ripe lawyer and sterling man, and Steel, a tried and true man, able and popu'ar, are the most prominent candidates before the convention. Catawba has emphatically declared for McCorkle.tatesville Landmark.

Constitution. Speaker Kerr is accused of bribery. A man named Harney says he paid Kerr $600 to get a commission in the army for one A. P. Green. The Clymer Committee is investigating the charge. Miss Jennie Patterson, who delivered public readings through this State a couple of years ago, and be-came a great favorite here and elsewhere, was married recently in St. Louis to Dr. Ralph Walsh.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has been compalled to decline the command of the Southern Battalion of the Centennial Legiou which is to parade in Philadelphia on the Fourth of July. It is composed of troops from Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia the five Southern States of the original thirteen.

The Bloody Shirt.

[New York World] Some of us Democrats have been hoping for some years that there might come a time when this flag of hate might cease to be waved. We have thought so, because it has been a received opinion that all things buman have an end, and that there never was a lane so long that did not have a turning. But we believe that this is going to be an exception to the ord nary principles of Nature, and that until the last sands are exhausted upon the shores of Time the bloody shirt of the late war will be seen in its crimsoned hues by the Republican part of the American people. Nay, more than that; when the earth is melted with fervent heat and the heavens like a scroll pass away, and the voice of the Arch-angel is heard, then the last object that will be seen by man will be Morton and Blaine pr ssing behind Gabriel with the inevitable shirt still borne proudly

The Ansonian is surprised to hear us say that Mr. Stanton, Lincoin's bl ody Secretary of War, was a native of North Carolina. But it is a native of North Carolina. But it is a fact. He was born in sight of the town of Beaufort, Carteret county, and while he was Secretary of War told the Hon. R. R. Bridgers, of Wilmington, that he well remembered his birth-place, stating, that he had to his birth-place, stating that he left Carteret county when 8 or ten years old. - Charlotte Democrat.

Regulate the Bodily Functions.

This advice should be especially heeded by those who suffer from an irregular hibit of body or disorders of the b adder or kidneys Inactivity of the bowels, or of the urinary organs, is speedily rectified by that wholesome sperient and ster ing invigorative durestle Hostetter's Stomach Bitters; and, as all affections of the organs of discharge have a strong tendency to become chrouse, and that very rapidly, the use of the Ritters should not be delayed for a moment longer than is necessary. The action of this inestimable corrective upon the bowels differs widely from that of a drastic purgative, since it is never violent or abrupt, but always gentle and natural, and its effects upon the bladder and kidneys are strengthening as well as mildly stimulative. The healthful impetus which it gives to digestion also renders it a most desirable general tonic. Regulate the Bodily Functions.

Foreign Miscellany.

The Montenegrin Minister of War informs Baron Roderick of the offensive and defensive alliance concluded between Servia, Romania, Monter.egro and Greece, and intimated that Thesealy and Crete would rise and support the movement. Altogether the situation is regarded as drawing to a crisis. The Porte had been informed of no armistice on the Berlin proposition, and the insurgent leaders declared they would fight until independence was achieved. The official mission invalide has seconded these movements by the declaration that England's refusal to act with the northern powers cannot but bring difficulties. Murad is pledged to constitutional government. The French government urges the new Turkish government to make a pacific solution. Duc de Cazes pointed out to the Turkish government that Murad is entirely free from embarassing engagements, and that his succession would naturally induce a suspension of hostilities; an armistice was in no way inconsistent with the dignity of the government. The Porte urged him to take advantage of the opportunity and immediately enter upon negotiations with the insurgents and make concessions that are judged equitable and necessary, and thereby avoid making them under pressure of power. The Prussian telegraph agency states that the Sultan's deposition is received as an opportune occasion for a peaceful settlement, which is desired by all parties. Prince Milan has advised the consuls at Belgrade that he will issue a note declaring that Servia has no choice other than lead the insurrectionists or perish. A rumor is circulating that Andrassy is about to resign and that Herr Fraulmanusdorf will succeed him.

Blaine Again.

WASHINGTON, May 31.-Fisher denied the Boston Herald story, Nothing important developed. Atkins also testified regarding the value of stocks, but denied any knowledge of Blaine's bonds getting into the hands of the Pacific road. Mr. Mulligan, Fisher's book-keeper, testified that Blaine, as agent, negotiated for the Fort Smith bonds and afterwards took them up. He complained to Mulligan of having lost money; Mulligan replied, you could not have lost much, as you got 80 cents on the dollar for $74,000 worth. Atkins told Mulligan that Blaine's bonds were sold to the Union Pacific Railroad by Scott. The transactions are complicated, and there is a great struggle on the part of Blaine's friends to restrict the investigation within the scope of a resolution.

Spencer from Louisiana Seated. WASHINGTON, May 31.-House.-

In the House Morey of Louisiana arose to a personal explanation in reference to the testimony given by Selves before the Committee, charged with investigating the Federal offices in Louis'ana. He declared that all the statements made by that witness, charging him wit i er mes and impugning his bonor and integrity, were fal e and infamous. Selyes own evidence showed that he was infamous, and that he had made a very weak attempt to prove that he, Morey, was equally so in the summer of 1875. This witness had sent him an abstract of what he ca'le l a history of occurrences in the fall of 1874 in the State of Louisians. He had been west when this communication had been mailed to him, and on his return to Washington he heard that this man proposed to make a publication of that statement. He, Morey, was aware that his seat in Congress was to be contested, and he felt that a publication of that sort would be prejudicial to his interests, and that if by paying Selye a few hundred dollars he could stop that current abuse and falsehood, he would be justified in so doing, and he therefore had done so. In conclusion he thanked the gentlemen on both sides of the House for the expression of their confidence, which they had given him since the publication of Selye's testimony.

The House then proceeded to-consider the Louisiana contested election case of Spencer vs. Morey, and was addressed by McCrary, of Iowa, who supported the minority report of the Committee on Elections, declaring that Morey, the sitting member, is entitled to the seat after a long discussion. The minority resolution was then rejected-yeas 72, noes 100. and the majority resolutions declaring Morey, the sitting member, not entitled to the seat, and Wm. S. Spencer entitled to it. Adopted without a division. Adjourned.

Presbyterian Assembly.

NEW YORK, May 31.-In the Presbyterian assembly the Moderator read a private letter from the Moderator of the Southern Presbyterian assembly, which, after giving a history of the cour e of the Southern assembly on the subject of fraternal relations, said, "the point of this whole history is to make it clear, that our original action was adopted, irrespective of your telegram to me, (applause) which though unofficially announced to the committee of the Whole was not officially brought before the assembly for action until the paper of the committee on bills and overtures had been accepted by a vote of 83 to 6. The six subsequently withdrew their dissent, (applause) the reply, containing the former overture was then sent to you and prayer was offered in thanksgiving to God for bringing us to this unanimous conclu-' (applause.)

Cause of the Fire--Children and Matches.

QUEBEC, CANADA, May 31.-The large fire was caused by children playing with a box of matches. The fire was not under control until midnight. Several dwellings within walls were fired by sparks. Several children missing which are supposed to have been burned. Yesterday was the anniversary of the burning of the same place 30 years ago.

Turkey.

The Berlin papers universally legan the changes favorably, though the powers are inclined to maintain an observiant attitude for a while. They are understood to view the Murad accession to the throne with satisfac. tion and sympathy.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 30.-Senate.-Spencer introduced a bill attaching Bullock and Lee counties in Alabama, also to the Middle District of that State. A number of petitions were presented, and private and pension bills reported. The Japanese indemnity was resumed, and finally passed-24 to 20. Adjourned.

Universal Suffrage--Heavy Rains.
